

Business District in Rochelle Threatened by Fire

RESORT GUARDS SEIZED BEFORE BOMB EXPLOSION

Officers Released Unharmed; Damage to Dance Hall $20,000

Fox River Grove, Ill., Nov. 25—
(AP)—Deputy Village Marshal
William C. Dvorak, 38, and Rex
Wright, 45, night watchman at a dance hall, were abducted early today by six men armed with pistols shortly before the dance pavilion was bombed and set afire.

Dvorak, who also is village fire
chief, and Wright, a village trustees, were released unharmed after being driven, the marshal said,
about 14 miles to near Arlington Heights.

Edward Cernocky, who with his brother, Louis, and their mother,
operate the dance hall—Louis Crystal ballroom—estimated the bombing and fire caused $20,000 damage. He said he was unable to advance a motive for the bombing. A fire at the dance hall last Sunday has prompted an investigation by a deputy state fire marshal, Dvorak said.

The building was under guard day and night
since the blaze. The Cernockys also operate a tavern adjacent to the dance hall, which was built in 1923 by Louis Cernocky, Sr. It can accommodate between 800
and 1,000 dancers, Cernocky said.

Story of Abduction
Dvorak told of the abduction
after he and Wright had been returned here by Deputy Sheriff James Davis. He had attended a meeting of the village fire department Friday night and at about 1 a. m. had gone to the pavilion. While he was talking with Wright, two automobiles
drove up and six men alighted.
They inquired of the two village
officers if the tavern were open,
but when Dvorak walked into a gangway the men drew pistols, Dvorak said, and ordered him,
together with Wright, into the pavilion.

They stayed in the building only a few minutes and two of the men forced Dvorak and Wright into one of the automobiles, while the other four men stayed in the
dance hall.

State Warden Notified
Dvorak and Wright returned to the scene of the fire about 3 a. m.
They described the six men as well-dressed and between 30 and 35 years old.

Edward Cernocky said he was in the tavern about 1:30 a. m., when he heard an explosion, which he said sounded "like a heavy roll of thunder." He said he called the fire department, which succeeded in extinguishing the fire in the one-story frame building.

Motorists Escape Injury
As Trains Wreck Autos
Springfield, Ill., Nov. 25.—(AP)— Trains demolished two automobiles yesterday in accidents within seven miles of each other, but the motorists escaped injury.

Ronald Lauman of Maplewood, Mo., and Mrs. E. J. Fleming of Springfield abandoned their car
when it stalled on the Alton railroad tracks in the path of a freight train at nearby Chatham.
The car was demolished and burned.

O. F. Smith of Springfield leaped from his car here a few hours later, just before an Alton streamlined passenger train struck it.

Albert Bolton Dies at Home Here Last Evening
Albert Bolton passed away Friday evening at 7 o'clock at his home on Fourth street and Rock Island road. He is survived by his widow; one son, Irvin; one daughter, Mrs. L. Barkdill; one grandson of Dixon; one brother Charles of Rockford and one sister, Mrs. Mary Carlson of Rock Falls. Funeral services will be held at the family residence Monday morning at 9 o'clock and at St. Patrick's Catholic church at 9:30 with interment in Oakwood.

Congratulations

Fred W. Chiverton today left the Dixon Evening Telegraph to accept a position as circulation manager of the Cairo Daily Citizen at Cairo, Ill. He has been in the employ of The Telegraph for the past four years, during which time he has been associated with every phase of the circulation department.

Frederick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm.
Chiverton of 416 East Second street, is a Dixon high school graduate. He began working at The Telegraph in 1935 as subscription salesman in the suburban carrier division, and was transferred to the mail division in 1936.
During the following two years he made unusual progress, becoming widely known throughout The Telegraph territory.

Due to outstanding work in this capacity, he was made district manager in 1938, assuming charge
of all suburban carrier circulation and correspondents. His progress in this position was equally successful, attracting widespread recognition in carrier circles.

The entire staff of The Evening
Telegraph joins with his hundreds of friends throughout Lee, Ogle, and Bureau counties in congratulating Fred on his well-deserved promotion and wishing him success in his new position.

Threaten Strike; Would Close All Movie Theaters

Hollywood, Nov. 25.—(AP)— (AP)—The motion picture industry braced itself today for the shock of a strike that which A. F.
of L. union leaders said would close every film theatre in the United States and Canada.

Failing to wrangle a 10 per cent
wage increase for 23,000 studio
technicians, William Bioff, chairman of the conference of studio unions, announced he would call today a "general strike throughout the entire motion picture industry."

The hour of the walkout was not announced.

Bioff's declaration followed a conference of A. F. of L. executives and movie producers, in which Joseph M. Schenck, chairman of the producers' negotiating committee, informed the unions
their demands were being refused
because of a "complete readjustment which faces the industry."

Loss of foreign markets and sharp curtailment of production
had been cited by the producers
as effects of the European war on the industry. The unions pointed to "exorbitant salaries" paid to stars and "ridiculously low" wages
to hundreds of technicians and challenged producers to make re-

Funeral Services for Claude Reed on Monday

Funeral services for Claude Reed of Amboy, who passed away about 10 o'clock yesterday morning,
will be held Monday morning at St. Patrick's church in that city with the Rev. Fr. Troy officiating and burial will be in the church cemetery.

Mr. Reed had celebrated his 61st birthday last Monday. He was born near Ashton and was married August 30, 1905. Surviving are his widow; ten children, Dallas, Clare, Mrs. Marion Decorsey, Mrs. Lois Lower and Mrs. Helen Pattman, all of Rochelle and Misses Frances and Marjorie and Paul, Cyril and Warren, all at home; one brother, Clifford, of Saskatchewan, Canada; one sister, Mrs. Joe Bundsen of Goodrich,
Mich.; and ten grandchildren.

Yesterday she was revealed as the owner of a $287,300 hoard.

A safety-deposit box gave up $279,000 in bills of $1,000 and $500
denominations. There was $5,000 in a bank checking account, and $3,300 in a savings account.

Investigators were attempting to learn whether Mrs. Lincoln left a will. Her husband, Willis L. Lincoln, a real estate broker, died in August, 1938. His interests included an amusement park in Rockford.

James R. Glass, the widow's lawyer, said apparently no one knew of her hidden wealth. In 1937, he said, the Lincolns allowed a mortgage on their 16-apartment building to default rather than pay $15,000.

"They said they did not have any such money," Glass said.

EX-BOOTLEGGERS SUIT PUZZLE IN DEATH OF O'HARE

Authorities Unable to Establish Reason for Murder Nov. 8th

Chicago, Nov. 25.—(AP)—
George Remus, a kingpin of bootlegging during the turbulent twenties, has filed a claim for $196,000
in Probate court against the estate of Edward J. O'Hare, race track operator who was slain by shotgun fire Nov. 8, it was disclosed today.

Justice Chancellor, Sr., counsel for the plaintiff, said that the claim represented a balance Remus alleged was due him from O'Hare
for liquor which O'Hare and 21
other persons were convicted of stealing from Remus' bonded warehouse in St. Louis in 1923.

Remus was the chief prosecution
witness at the Federal court trial which resulted in O'Hare being sentenced to serve a year in prison and to pay a $500 fine.

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati reversed
the O'Hare conviction three years
later and ordered a new trial.
Meanwhile, Remus had served a year in the Atlanta penitentiary
for violation of the prohibition laws.

Upon Remus' release, O'Hare
was reported to have arranged a friendly adjudication of his financial obligations to Remus, agreeing to repay Remus for the liquor on easy going terms acceptable to both. Additionally, reports had it, Remus was given an interest in dog-racing tracks operated by O'Hare and Al Capone in Chicago and Florida.

Chancellor said the original amount of the settlement for the liquor was $208,200, of which $11-500 had been paid, in line with the deal between O'Hare and Remus.

O'Hare Not Retried
Having bargained, the mollified Remus let it be known that he would not appear again as a witness against O'Hare, O'Hare never was retried.

The new development served further to puzzle authorities seeking a tenable rationale of the killing of the millionaire president of Sportsman's Park. At the time of his death, O'Hare had an income which was reckoned to exceed $500,000 a year. He had a fat stake in numerous horse and dog racing enterprises in Florida, Tennessee and Massachusetts. He was an entrepreneur of advertising, realty and insurance; he was a man of trust funds, bank accounts and securities, all of impressive proportions.

O'Hare was shot to death in his automobile while trying to shake off his assassins, a finish as spectacular as most of his financial ventures.

Controlled Much Whiskey
Remus became known as a bootleg satrap in 1921. Within a few years, it was learned, widespread liquor deals enriched him
to the fabulous tune of $20,000-000. At one time it was said that he controlled 62 per cent of the whiskey in the nation.

Besides the time he served in Atlanta, Remus was committed to an Ohio county jail for a year. His fines totaled $100,000.

Charley Horse
Pittsburgh, Nov. 25.—(AP)—
If you feel a jolt today at the office between 10 and 11:30 a.
m., and once or twice in the latter part of the day, Dr.
Russell R. Jones says you might be suffering from an "occupational charley horse."

Over-activity without proper nutrition of the muscles causes a charley horse on the playing field and Industrial Medical Officer Jones thinks
the same thing happens figuratively to industrial and office workers.

"They become over-trained,
get stale—then accidents begin to happen and productivity slows up," he declared.

The remedy is rest or diversion, which Dr. Jones says may subtract from the working day but results in more being accomplished before the quitting whistle.

Rochelle Variety Store Burns

Scene in Rochelle early this morning when Dixon variety store on Lincoln Highway was destroyed by fire, which for a time

endangered the city's business district. Stocks in Phelps hardware and Harrison grocery stores, adjoining burned building, suffered heavy damage from smoke and water, and two families barely escaped from apartments over Dixon store.

Battle of Lost Nation Raging
Fiercely Today

The battle of Lost Nation continued this afternoon and the last communique from the scene of action, indicated that every man had been accounted for and the injuries consisted only of barbed wire cuts and sore feet. The entire battalion lined up at the open air mess camp at Dixon's cottage at noon where the company mess sergeants had large quantities of food ready for officers and men.

The menu was in keeping with the damp cold air and consisted of the following: sweet pickles,
chili con carne and crackers, cabbage slaw, individual apple pies, bread, butter, jam, coffee and an apple for every man. As soon as arms were stacked, mess packs
unslung and the companies dismissed, the men filed along the open cooking vessels where they were served, then sat down on the ground to partake of the warm food. There were no benches or tables as the troops were experiencing strict military field training.

The maneuvers started about 10 o'clock at the Riverside school corner on the Daysville road at the entrance to Lost Nation. A group composing the "enemy" was stationed and machine gun posts
established, after which the companies were divided and began their maneuvers, scouting out the enemy positions.

Over Three Mile Area
The battle waged over a three mile area of rough country, units
at times deploying along the banks of Rock river, in wooded tracts, across the sand slopes of Lost Nation, until shortly before noon the banks of Clear creek were reached. Scouts located the single bridge spanning the narrow

Conshohocken

Conshohocken, Pa., Nov. 25—(AP)—Citizens of this Schuylkill river town 20 miles from Philadelphia are mighty upset about the way Christopher Morley uses Conshohocken as a cuss-word in his latest novel.
"Pop," one of the former Phil-adelphian's characters in his novel, "Kitty Foyle," gets "pretty Conshohocken mad,"
and refers to that "Conshohocken automobile" in bursts of anger.
"The people of Conshohock-
en resent this undignified use of the name," said Robert C.
Landers, superintendent of schools.
A civic club leader was indignant at the "slur."
But borough Secretary Joseph Quinn looks at it this way:
"It'll help advertise the town."

Shock Following Fall is Fatal to Sterling Woman

Mrs. H. Hunter Wood of Sterling, aunt of Mrs. Robert E. Shaw of Dixon, died very suddenly at 10:30 o'clock last evening at the Sterling public hospital as the result of shock occasioned by a fall
at her home early in the evening,
in which she suffered a fractured ankle. Death came with absolutely no warning as she was talking to her physician, who sat at her bedside. She had been in good health
up to the time of her accident,
and at the hospital appeared in as normal condition as anyone who had just sustained a fractured bone could be. Funeral services will be held at the Wood home, 1206 W. Third street, Sterling, at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon,
the Rev. H. A. Bergens, rector of Grace Episcopal church, officiating and with burial in Riverside cemetery, Sterling.

Mrs. Wood, prominent in social,
charitable and church activities,
in Sterling, was born there July 17, 1878 and is survived by her husband; her aged mother, Mrs. Ella McCune, who left her only last week to spend the winter with a daughter in Texas; two sisters, Mrs. L. L. Machia of Colorado
City, Tex. and Mrs. N. R. Reeves
of Atlanta, Georgia; a daughter, Mrs. Walter Gooch of Roanoke, Va.; and two grandchildren. Prior to her marriage to Mr. Wood she was an outstanding teacher in Central school at Sterling.

Publisher Believes FDR
Will Run for 3rd Term

St. Louis, Nov. 25.—(AP)—
Frank E. Gannett, Rochester, N.
Y., publisher and New Deal critic, believes President Roosevelt—his political fortunes improved by the European war—will run for a third term.

"I don't see anyone else in his party who can carry his banner,"
the publisher, a Republican, said
in an interview here last night.

"I firmly believe he'll be the (Democratic) candidate as he loves the job, takes it easily and enjoys the glamor attached to it. He has been campaigning for two years and will enjoy breaking the (two term) percent and carrying on the job."

"x x x It is not going to be an easy task to beat him. But I believe it can be done," he predicted.

Gannett stopped here on a detour from his trip to the Pacific coast as chairman of the National Committee to Uphold Constitutional Government.

Cleveland's Teachers Face Payless Christmas

Cleveland, Nov. 25.—(AP)— Cleveland's 4,000 school teachers
faced a payless Christmas today,
but the board of education decided to keep the schools open.

The board had considered closing for the rest of the year because of a depleted operating fund.
Treasurer Karl K. Morris said the board could stop classes for the last six weeks of the year or operate at a deficit of $1,000,000 to $1,500,000 for the period.

Toledo schools have closed for the rest of the year due to lack of funds.

War's Effects
Chicago, Nov. 25.—(AP)—
Eight thousand pounds of parcels sent by Chicago shippers to Germany, Slovakia, Danzig
and Poland have been returned because of the blockade imposed by Great Britain and France. Postmaster Ernest J.
Kreutgen said yesterday.

Kreutgen said postoffice
rules provide that all parcels bound for the blockade countries which had not left the United States are returned to shippers. Mail returned from Europe after it failed to get past the blockade also is returned, he said, but without refund.

Metaphysicians Adopt Baby in Plan to Prove Their Eternal Life Theory

Oakdale, N. Y., Nov. 25.—(AP)—
A five-month-old baby has been adopted by the Royal Fraternity
of Master Metaphysicians in an attempt to prove their belief that human beings can live forever.

Central figure in the strange experiment is a red-haired, blue-eyed child named Jean, who James B. Schafer, leader of the meta-physicians, said would be reared to demonstrate "that man is an immortal being."

Schafer said the baby's poverty-stricken parents, whose identity he did not disclose, had asked him to adopt her. He said she would be fed a vegetable diet and her training rigidly-controlled, with no one permitted to speak to her of death

or disease.

The child, he said, is being cared for by a private nurse in the old 110-room Vanderbilt mansion on Long Island obtained by the fraternity in January, 1938, and christened "Peace Haven."

Schafer and his fellow metaphy-sicians believe illness and death
result from destructive thinking.

VARIETY STORE BUILDING AND CONTENTS LOST

Heavy Water and Smoke Damage in Adjacent Business Houses

(Telegraph Special Service)
Rochelle, Nov. 25.—Fire, which started in the basement of the Dixon variety store on the Lincoln Highway at an early hour
this morning at times threatened the city's business district before it was extinguished at 10 o'clock,
after having completely destroyed
the building housing that store,
together with its contents, and having caused considerable damage by smoke and water in the Phelps' hardware store and the Harrison Grocery Co. store, which adjoin the consumed structure.

Some estimates place the damage at $250,000.

The fire was discovered at about 3:40 by Arthur Bates, who was making a delivery of bakery goods. He had barely passed the Dixon store when the basement windows were blown out and flames and smoke belched forth
over the sidewalk. He immediately sounded the alarm, but the fire had gained such headway that the Rochelle firemen were confronted from the start with dense banks of smoke.

Tenants Driven Out
The fire ate its way rapidly
through the first and second floors
of the building which was owned by George Colton of Rockford, and Mr. and Mrs. Kelsey Oldham and baby, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lueshy, and children, who occupied apartments over the Dixon store, barely escaped with their lives through the dense smoke. None of their belongings was saved. The Old-ham's apartment had been under quarantine for whooping cough,
with which their baby was suffering, and the mother had only time enough to wrap the child in a blanket and stagger down the smoke-clogged stairway to safety.

Nothing was saved from the variety store but some heavier articles of hardware were carried from the Phelps store before the dense smoke stopped salvage efforts; nothing was rescued from the Harrison store. The offices of
C. H. Allen, insurance man, and Dr. L. L. Dauen, chiropractor, over the Phelps store were badly damaged by water and smoke, but
Mr. Allen was able to get his typewriter and record files out before the dense smoke prevented him making further trips into the building.

Much Water Damage
Household furniture belonging to Mrs. Edith Wedder of Detroit, formerly of Rochelle, which was stored in rear rooms over the Phelps store, was damaged beyond repair, and water, at least three feet deep in the basements
of the Phelps, Harrison and Zimmerman Bros. grocery, adjacent to the hardware store, caused damage which could not be estimated until it has been pumped out.

During the fire Chief John Maxson was overcome with smoke,
which was so dense that for a time the firemen were forced to wear masks. He was given immediate treatment and in a short time was able to resume direction of the fire fighting.

In the confusion among the spectators watching the fire Ralph (Sonny) Yates, little son of John Yates, walked or ran into the side of an automobile driven by George Daneakas, but he escaped injury.

Little Business of Import Before Commission

Mayor William Slothower, at last evening's city council meeting, gave a report of the hearing
before the Illinois Commerce Commission at Springfield last Tuesday which was attended by several members of the city commission, at which time the Illinois Central railway sought discontinuance of the passenger coach on the mixed freight train from Freeport to Clinton. The hearing was continued until Dec. 19 when additional statistics are to be supplied by the railroad representatives.

The council voted approving a plat of land on North Dixon avenue between East Bradshaw and East Graham streets, which has been surveyed by the C. K. Willett, consulting engineers, as requested by the F. X. Newcomer company. The plat has been resubdivided.

The petition of Dr. C. R. Collins, veterinarian, to erect a sign at 110
River street, was granted.

Semi monthly claims against the city amounting to $2,560.23 were read and ordered paid.

Building Improvements

SMALL HOMES • STORES • APARTMENTS • MODERNIZATION

by PAUL T. HAAGEN, A.I.A.

NEW FEATURE IN BATHTUB

Adaptable to Modernization Plans

Perhaps you have seen a four-foot square neo-angel bathtub which has many unique features. It is particularly adaptable to many modernization plans where space is limited and because of its novel design makes a splendid shower and tub combination. One of the many unusual features of this tub is an integral shower seat at the rear, useful for in this tub you may take a comfortable sitting down shower and when not used as a shower seat it becomes a handy shelf for bathing accessories when one is taking a tub bath.

The diagonal bathing recess is the same as the standard five and one-half foot tub, so a complete reclining bath may be had. As a new fixture, this tub will be found to require a narrower space than an ordinary five foot six tub, and so, when modernization of the old home is undertaken, it might be well to consider this equipment.

INVEST IN A HOME

Throughout the last few years of economic depression, the old and fundamental soundness of careful investment in a home and lands has again been enunciated. Amidst the chaotic deflation of almost every known type of investment, money placed in a good home which was not purchased at an excessive cost, has continued to return, year in and year out, its full measure of dollar-for-dollar value.

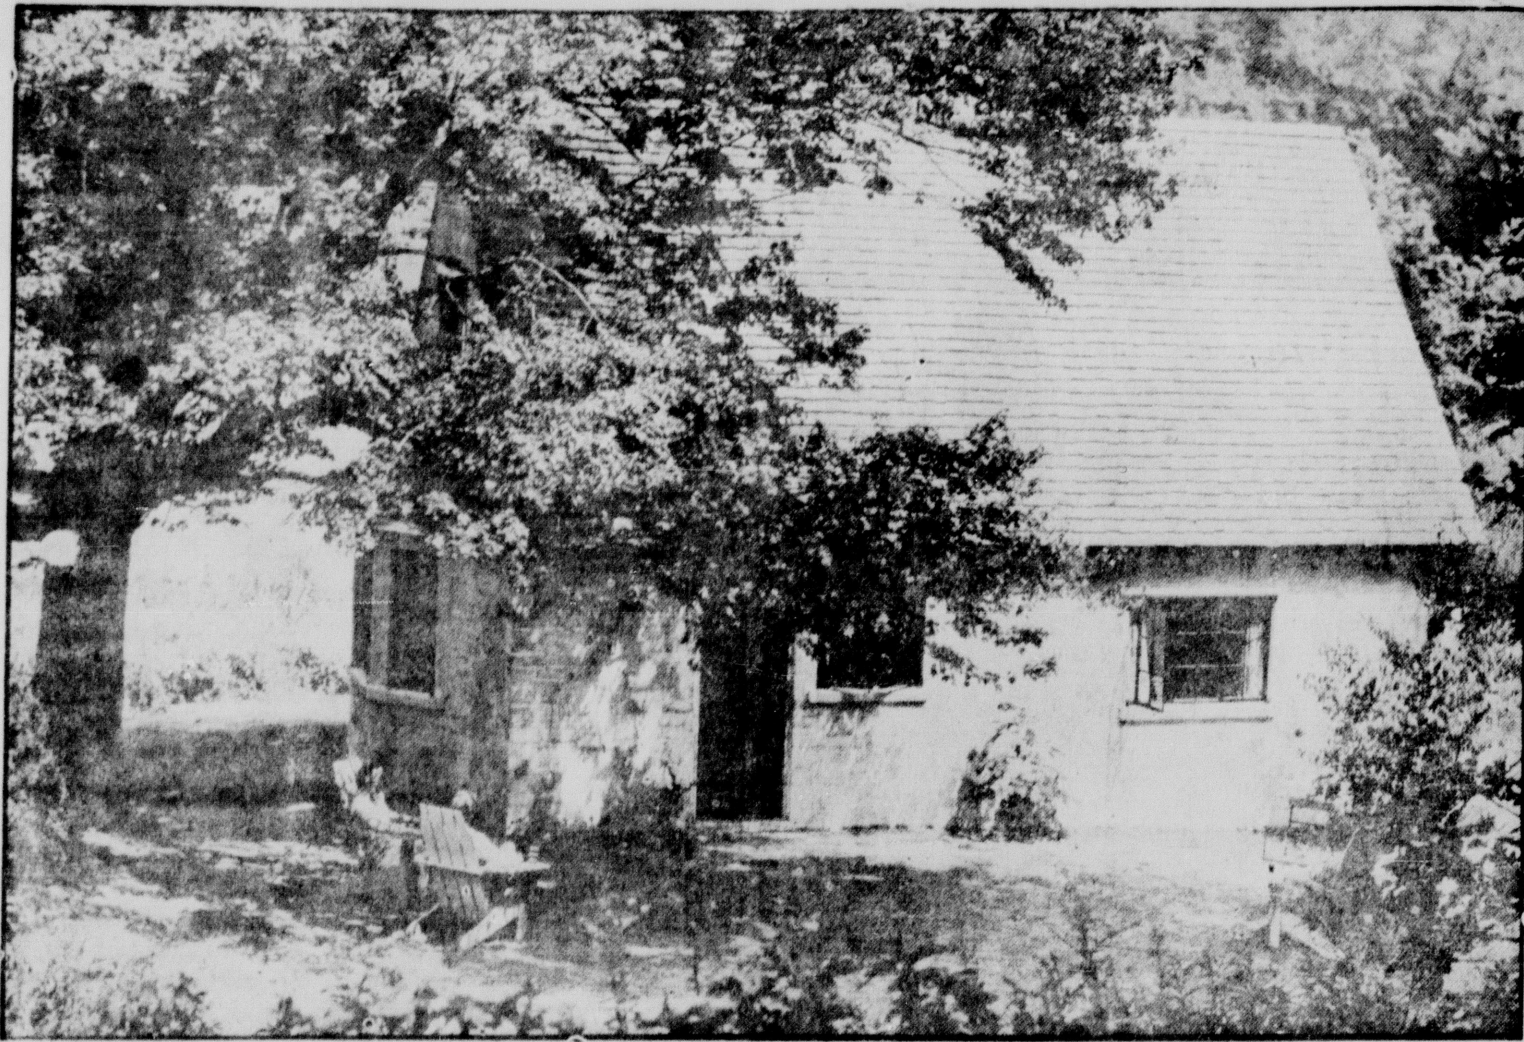

Money saved through investment in a home in which the owner expects to live is money placed beyond the reach of any future economic upheaval. Money buys a service which is needed throughout the life of its owner.

If one has ever thought of the desirability of owning his own home and has failed to make the dream come true in the past, do your decisive thinking on the subject today, because existing circumstances demand it. Never since the American settlers first built their homes of logs has it been so easy, from a financial standpoint, for the average family to acquire a good new home on terms which they can afford.

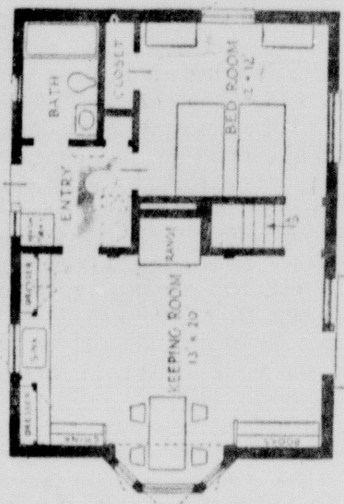

Unusual conditions, peculiar to the period in which we are living today and which are unlikely to be repeated within a generation, have produced this situation: First, for nearly five years American building developments have been going along at an all-time low ebb. Naturally labor and material costs are low as yet there is no building revival to boost them out of sight.

Secondly, to stimulate the lagging recovery of the great building industry, which is normally the second largest industry in the

PURDUE AND INDIANA FIGHT FOR THE OLD OAKEN BUCKET

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 25—(AP)—Those traditional gridiron opponents Purdue and Indiana, renew their 42-year rivalry here today to determine possession of a first division place in the Western Conference and also the "Old Oaken Bucket," symbol of the long-standing feud.

A sell-out crowd of 25,000 is expected to witness the tilt which will be played, if the weather man is an accurate forecaster, under overcast skies from which may drop rain or snow.

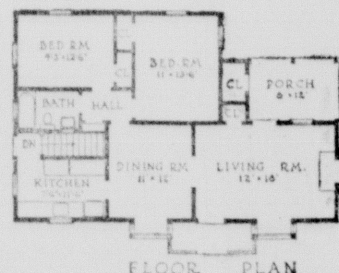

Beautiful Christmas Cards are here for your inspection. We advise an early selection.

FOR THE SUBURBS

ONE of the tenets of modern architecture is increased window area. Many traditional designs have been improved by borrowing this feature from ultra-modern designs.

Here is a rambling, suburban cottage home which has been greatly improved by the two large fixed windows which balance the front and flood both the living room and dining room with cheerful light.

USELESS PORCHES MAKE SPLENDID BREAKFAST NOOKS

The world moves around us at a pretty rapid pace. Modernization is seen everywhere. Why not seize the present opportunities for renovating and remodeling, and convert an old, outmoded, open back porch or side porch into a sunny glassed in breakfast room. Then, later in the year, when the grass begins to grow, you may be able to terrace the ground outside the new sunroom, and have it open on to a terrace with lawn chairs and sun-umbrellas!

LAUNDRY CHUTE SAVES STEPS

A laundry chute, with openings on all floors, is the quickest and most sanitary way of collecting soiled linens and clothing and disposing of them until wash day. The chute relieves the housewife from carrying heavy, bulky bundles downstairs. Then, too, bathroom or hall space is not taken up with hampers.

The most satisfactory chute is of a metal which will not rust, chip, stain, or in any way injure fabrics which are sent through it to the laundry room.

NELSON

By Mrs. M. C. Stitzel

Nelson — Mrs. Lanett Bizarrri came out from Chicago for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Coppotelli and her son Larry.

Mrs. Bessie Gale entertained her nieces Miss Virginia Farnsworth of Washington, D. C., and Miss Constance Farnsworth of St. Paul, Minn., last week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gale had as Thanksgiving guests, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ortgiesen, Gene Ortgiesen, Herman Von Bergen, Mr. and Mrs. William Ortgiesen and Mrs. Clarence Wilson of Dixon. Mrs. Bessie Gale and daughter Betty, Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Gale and children of Davenport.

Miss Effie Parks came down from Dixon Friday and called on friends.

After attending the funeral of Mrs. Clara Keister, the following relatives returned to their homes in Chicago: Mr. and Mrs. J. Rippengill and children, Donald Black and George Keister and Mrs. Emma Goede.

Mr. and Mrs. George Onken, Mrs. Winnifred Cossman and son George joined other relatives at a Thanksgiving dinner at the C. A. Shaw home near Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. William Weber ate their Thanksgiving dinner at West Chicago with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weber.

ARE FLOORS SOUND?

A building may not be as solid and sound as it should be. Perhaps a floor needs reinforcing — new posts and piers. Plaster on the underside of ceilings will make them fire-resisting.

Leaky foundation walls make cellars damp and increase your fuel bill. Water-proofing properly applied will help.

FLOOR PLAN

Back in the early New England colonial days homes were built to be useful and practical and the heating of a home during the cold winters was a problem. Therefore the homes were built around a spacious keeping room which combined the kitchen, living room and dining room to which we are today committed.

Harking back to this old idea is this very complete but tiny home, an all 'round home that is up to date in all its conveniences. As one enters the front door he is immediately ushered into a hospitable room, the picturesque keeping room around which the entire house was built. Here in this room all the warmth of the family life is carried on, cooking, recreation and dining all center here.

Occupying the center of one side of this large room is the friendly range. Storage cupboards, sink and a long broad counter extend across one end of the room that is given up to the working center. Bath room and extra room are on the first floor and ample room is provided up under the roof for extra bed rooms. Such a house could mean home to so many types of people for it is gay, earnest and has the enchantment that breathes of home. The building was built in Connecticut for approximately $2,500.

Are your basement stairs safe? Firm railings and treads plus well-placed lights and switches may prevent accidents.

LAVATORY FOR WORK SHOP IS IDEAL FOR MEN

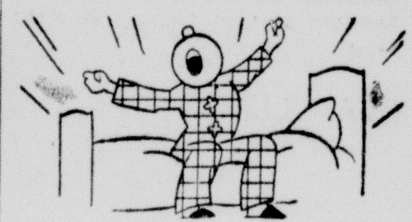

Most men of the house would like a separate washroom located in the basement near the workshop.

A small washroom may be added for a nominal cost. It should have proper light and is more convenient if shelves for soaps, brushes, etc., are included. The walls and door should be painted a bright cheerful color in a good washable paint. It is a good idea to apply a ring of dark colored paint about the door knob for this will not show up dirty finger prints like a lighter tone.

REPAIR ROOFS BEFORE WINTER

In most things it is better to start at the bottom and work up, but when you modernize your home you can go into reverse — and it's not a bad idea at that. The roof of a house is important. It's all there is between the home and rain, snow, and broiling sun.

Of all the house, the roof is probably the most neglected. Just because it's way up out of sight people forget about it, and it goes through the years wearing away. People "hope" it's all right. When a roof starts to look shabby that's a sign that it has outlived its usefulness. Then is the time to go over it.

ABOUT 150 COUPLES ATTEND ANNUAL DEMOLAY DANCE AT BRINTON MASONIC TEMPLE

The eleventh annual Thanksgiving dance of Dixon chapter, Order of DeMolay, furnishing the occasion for many a brand new formal and fragrant corsage, was a gay event of last evening at Brinton Memorial Masonic temple. Approximately 150 couples, including out-of-town guests from Sterling, Mt. Morris, and elsewhere, made up the crowd for the successful event.

James Palmer's decorating committee busied themselves earlier in the week, transforming the ballroom into a woodland scene. Logs covered with cotton snow, and pine boughs illuminated with blue spotlights, were an effective background for the evening's gaiety.

Quin Bowen's eight-piece band from Rockford played for dancing from 9 o'clock until 1, concluding their satisfying program with a group of well-known college songs.

DeMolay medallions marked the evening's hosts on the dance floor. Out of town members attending included Robert Yoe of Mt. Morris, who was escorting Lorraine Pitcher.

Preceding the dance, Barbara Miller, daughter of the T. J. Millers, was entertaining at a 7 o'clock dinner for six couples. Seated at her party table were Evelyn Worsley and Arthur Handell, Alice Hintz and Sterling Schrock, Jr., Nan Warner and Don Youngmark, Margaret Anderson of Arthur, Ill., and James Palmer, Elizabeth Ann Warner and Edward Lanphier, and Barbara and Leland Shoaf, Jr.

Following the party, Marilee Burns was entertaining another group of dance-goers at her home on North Galena avenue. Her guest list numbered 14.

Darrell Coakley was general chairman for the affair, and Bob Sanborn was in charge of ticket sales.

READ LENOX FANE RITES AT RECTORY

Miss Leonore Katherine Fane, only daughter of the Allen Fanes of 922 Woodlawn avenue, and Russell E. Lenox, elder son of Edward G. Lenox of 1334 Long avenue, pledged nuptial vows at 10 A. M. Thursday at the rectory of St. Patrick's Roman Catholic church. The Rev. Father James J. Burke heard the vows.

Miss Helen Lenox, sister of the bridegroom, and Daniel Leo Fane, the bride's brother, were the couple's only attendants.

The bride wore grape vine velvet with matching accessories. Her corsage bouquet contained roses and sweetpeas. Miss Lenox was attired in black crepe, accented by a corsage of yellow roses and sweetpeas.

A wedding dinner was served downtown for 16 guests. Afterward, Mr. Lenox and his bride left for Chicago, to remain until Sunday, when they will return to Dixon to reside with the bride's parents.

The bridegroom is with the Illinois Northern Utilities company.

DEBUT BALL IS BRILLIANT EVENT

Hundreds of guests assembled at the Mountain Brook club in Birmingham, Ala. on Thursday evening, Nov. 16, to attend the debut ball of Miss Florence Nicholson, daughter of the George Nicholson of Birmingham, according to word reaching Dixon friends of the family. Mrs. Nicholson, it will be remembered, is the former Miss Nellie Ruthrauff of this city.

Photographs appearing in the Birmingham Age-Herald pictured Miss Nicholson with her parents, ready to receive their party guests, and the charming debutante greeting a group of friends from Kansas City at the train. The Nicholson family formerly resided in Kansas City, Mo.

OKLAHOMA WOMAN WINS HIGH HONOR

Dixon friends of Mrs. Frank Lucas, postmistress of Ponca City, Okla., will be interested in knowing she has been chosen for Oklahoma's honorary Hall of Fame. Once each year, persons who have been outstanding residents of the state for a long time are named by the Oklahoma Memorial association to the Hall of Fame, a banquet is arranged in their honor, and at the close of the ceremonies, each guest is presented with a framed certificate signed by the governor of the state, as a written record of his or her achievement.

Mrs. Lucas has visited Mrs. Eustace Shaw of Bluff Park many times, and has many friends in Dixon.

HOMeward-BOUND COLLEGIANS BRIGHTEN THANKSGIVING WEEK FOR MANY DIXON HOUSEHOLDS

Home-coming student sons and daughters and their houseguests have added to the week's holiday pleasure for many a Dixon household. Miss Sue Perla of Great Falls, Mont., has been spending the Thanksgiving recess granted Northwestern students with her freshman classmate, Cary Crawford, at the Joseph Crawford home in the country. This morning, the Crawfords, their elder daughter, Norma, who also attends Northwestern.

Caryl and her guest were heading toward Evanston to attend the Northwestern-Iowa football game.

A visitor from Pittsburgh, Pa., Miss Dolly Van Martre, is the guest of Miss Jean Hart, daughter of Mrs. W. D. Hart of 510 East Fellows street. When Jean and her guest return to Evanston on Sunday to resume their studies at Northwestern, they will be accompanied by Jean's mother, who expects to remain with her uncle, Charles S. Graves, for two weeks. On Thursday, Mrs. Hart, her daughter, and Miss Van Martre were dinner guests at the Crawford home.

Mrs. Hart's son, Wilbur, who is a junior at Cornell university this year, was unable to come home for Thanksgiving, but will be leaving Ithaca for Dixon when the Christmas holiday exodus begins.

In Milwaukee
Another Dixon student prevented from returning home for Thanksgiving was Miss Louise Miller, daughter of the T. J. Millers of North Galena avenue, who attends the University of Wisconsin. The Madison school observes a one-day holiday recess on the traditional date, Nov. 30. This week end, however, Miss Miller has gone to Milwaukee with a party of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority sisters to attend the wedding of a sister of one of the group. The nuptial ceremony was to be an event of this morning at a Milwaukee church.

When Louis Schumm, Jr. returns to the University of Illinois campus the first of the week, he will be occupied with preliminary plans for the annual winter formal of Sigma Pi fraternity, a brilliant event appearing on the post-holiday calendar of Phi chapter, of which he is president. Nearer at hand are the interfraternity ball, scheduled for Dec. 2, and the Junior Prom, Dec. 8.

From Illinois
Other Sigma Pi fraternity members spending the Thanksgiving holiday in Dixon are Bob Hoffman and Edwin Callahan, two of this year's pledges, and Bill McGinnis. Also at home from the university campus this week are Lenore Jeanette and Helen Hey, Phyllis Marks, Helen Kennedy, Earl Forsberg, and Paul Flamm of Grand Detour. Classes will be resumed at noon on Monday.

Miss Jane Hofer arrived in Dixon on Wednesday to remain until Sunday, and is entertaining Miss Mary Alice Fritz of Omaha, Neb., as her guest. Jane is a junior at MacMurray college in Jacksonville, and Mary Alice is a sophomore.

Miss Juanita Van Meter and her guest, Miss Elin Johnston of New York City, will return to the MacMurray campus tomorrow evening. Both are members of the senior class, of which Juanita is president.

ROCHELLE SCHOOL TO GIVE COMEDY
Members of the Rochelle High School Dramatic club have begun rehearsals for the three-act comedy, "Relatives by Affection," which they will present in the school auditorium, Dec. 8.

Miss Vera Coultas is directing the cast of characters, including Robert Kepner, Helen Barnett, Mary Jean Koritz, Marie Eckhardt, Phil May, Judson Calhoun, Lyle Kunde, Ann Westin, Archie Rainwater, Evelyn Dodge, Patsy Hayes, Joan Cavell, Billy Askvig and Virgil Stevenson.

FOUR W'S CLUB
"What is Classical Music?" was the theme for general discussion when members of the Four W's music club met Friday afternoon at the home of their president, Mrs. Ruth Emmert. It was agreed to retain present officers of the club for another year. They include:

President, Mrs. Emmert; secretary, Miss Dorothea Lindstrom; treasurer, Miss Lois Fritts. The life and technique of Franz Liszt were reviewed, and it was emphasized that "many failures in music are due to efforts to get results too quickly."

HOLIDAY GUESTS
Prof. and Mrs. Charles Anderson and four children of Arthur, Ill., expect to return to their home during the week end, after spending the Thanksgiving holiday with the C. C. Hintz family.

VISIT RELATIVES
Mr. and Mrs. John R. Fulva of Pullman, Wash., are spending several weeks with Dixon relatives. Mr. Fulva is a brother of the late U. G. Fulva, and formerly resided here about 25 years ago.

Particular Housewives like to dress up the pantry shelves for the holiday season. We have shelf paper in very attractive colors—pink, blue, canary, green and white.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and odious, while its tools and dupes usurp the applause and confidence of the people to surrender their interests." From the Farewell Address.

THE REFORMED BAD-MAN

Ogle County Republican—After many years of honest effort, we finally got a break and a much deserved recognition in The Dixon Telegraph and Dick Terry's Polo Tri-County Press last week. It appears that in an unguarded moment we had our front windows washed, and the news created such a furore that both of these papers stopped the presses and took out a paid advertisement and featured it, which by the way was real hot news and we commend these worn and tired pencil shavers for their ability to pick news that is news. Since this innovation has become generally known we have received many messages of congratulation and two offers of marriage from wealthy widows who live far off and understood that we were yet young and good looking basing their offers on the supposition that we personally did this work. One large firm also wrote offering us a contract for washing the several hundred windows in their skyscraper, which we promptly turned down advising them that never would we resort to such effort as long as the Relief of today offered the opportunity it does. Among the callers to extend congratulations have been such well known persons as Charlie Eshbaugh, genial clerk at the Nachusa Hotel in Dixon, Wayne Prince, of the I. N. U. who moved over from Polo into God's country, Judge Leon A. Zick, P. L. McDonald and Attorney M. V. Peterman who are always deeply interested in improvements of a far reaching nature. Others have started a move to have us run for President, which we will not accept as we can't sit still long enough to fish. At any rate we always welcome good, clean advertising, and while we think that we are entitled to a Carnegie medal, we still permit to stick in our crop the inference that these windows hadn't had a bath in ten years. That's all the bunk, pure, simple and unadulterated, because we distinctly remember and have unimpeachable witnesses that they were massaged the day after the Democrats scooped up everything in sight in Illinois three years ago, in order that the customers and callers could be assured of seeing the black crepe on the sanctum furniture.

At any rate we extend greetings to these two live newspapers who made the scoop on this hot news, and assure them that they put it all over the Rockford Newspapers Incorporated, much to the chagrin of the keen nosed news hawks employed there, which practically proved that they were asleep at the switch. Now that we have pioneered in this window washing project, why not The Telegraph and the Tri-County join in and pull their own lights out from under a bushel and get off the kerosene circuit as we have.

Editor's Note—Ernie Landers' foregoing editorial comment on the laudatory notice taken by admiring and cheering neighboring newspapers over the epochal event of the Ogle County Republican offices reads just swell until you get near the end. But at that point the glow of self-righteousness sweeps him away and he gets just like a reformed bad-man who mounts the evangelistic platform and wants all of his old partners-in-crime to forsake the evil of their ways and join him on the path to glory. He thinks we ought to wash up too.

Well, it's a bright and inspiring evening in a dark and troubled world. Even though we may not be able to bring ourselves to such a precedent-shattering step as you have, Ernie, you must at least give us credit for being able to recognize courage and virtue when we see it.

EVERYONE PAYS FOR A WAR

The innocents pay in war almost in the same proportion as the belligerents. The little nations which aren't interested in conflict are finding out again that it costs a lot to remain neutral. Even the United States, thousands of miles away from the war zones, is beginning to fork over. The price of war for belligerents is terrific. Germany has a 12 billion dollar war budget this year. The British budget contemplates an expenditure of five billion dollars and the French a little more than two billions. None of these figures takes into account the enormous pre-war expenditures. After all, most European nations have been expecting trouble for some time.

There is no way to tell what the war bill after 11 weeks really is. Someone estimated the cost to belligerents to average about 100 million dollars a day—a little more than four million an hour. This is just a rough guess. It may be much higher.

Even if the neutral countries never get into the war, they will spend millions of dollars to preserve their neutrality. Holland has evacuated people from large areas and is ready to flood the land to drive back any invader. Belgium has built a "little Maginot line" to protect her border.

Switzerland has concentrated on strengthening her Alpine fortresses and on safe-guarding the nation against the consequences of intrigue hatched within her borders. The geographical position of Switzerland and the democracy of her government lend themselves admirably to international agents and refugees.

All the smaller, neutral nations of Europe have been compelled to arm themselves to the hilt. They have learned from the experience of other peoples that they cannot accept statesmen's promises that the neutrality of small nations will be respected. They have had to build up and equip their armies, buy munitions, set up strong walls of defense.

Someone must pay for all this. The warring powers aren't going to foot the bills of neutrals, even if the belligerents are responsible for the expenses. So the money will have to come from the same old place it always comes from—the people.

In most European countries, taxes have already gone up. They will continue to climb as the war progresses. Everything the people buy is being taxed. Most of the simple pleasures of their lives are subject to levies. Where taxes did not exist before, they are collected now. On commodities and services that were nominally taxed, the rates have become exorbitant.

Fighting is an expensive luxury—costly to the innocent and guilty alike.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, Nov. 24 — Dies committee that has evidence of international communism—including that of the United States—is about to go under ground again, in its fifth new period of reflecting five changes of world revolutionary policy since the red conquest of Russia.

Membership of the communist party is to be pared down to perhaps 35,000 (They have been a little careless about membership in recent years.) What will be called "a militant fighting force" will be created to work inside again by trickery and infiltration to promote the revolution through creating discord in all available organizations.

A less compromising stand toward "imperialism" (how the commies can use that word after what Stalin did in Poland will be a mystery to anyone but a communist) and toward "capitalism" is already being adopted. "Popular fronts" or what is left of them are being abandoned. Financial support will be withdrawn from such deluded liberal outfits as the American League for Peace and Democracy (committee evidence shows the communist party contributed about 15 per cent of the league budget.)

The change appears to be partly a result of exposures, partly because Stalin's course is publicly indefensible in every nation except Russia.

In this new "underground discord" period, the militant underground may even turn against the New Deal. You will shortly hear them denouncing it as a "fake liberal outfit."

This New Deal change did not lack invitation. You will recall how FDR recently went out of his Hyde Park way to question legality of Earl Browder's Boston remark about the U. S. being ready for "a quick transition" to socialism. Browder has used stronger language than this on previous occasions without rebuke.

Various distinct stages of communism, which led up to this currently evolving one:

1—Direct revolutionary period, 1917-21, when open armed revolt in Russia was followed by similar unsuccessful efforts in Germany, Hungary and elsewhere.

2—NEP (new economic policy) period, 1921-28, which compromised extensively with capitalism even in Russia where pay was given to workers, etc.

3—Civil strife period, 1928-35, when civil war and strife was promoted directly by political action in various countries, a mistake which brought the rise of fascism.

4—Popular front period, 1935-39, when the seventh world congress advocated coal-tail riding which resulted in the French and Spanish cooperation and in Browder, communist candidate for president, endorsing Mr. Roosevelt's re-election.

There may be nothing radically wrong inside the navy, but navy publicity tactics are encouraging the impression that there must be. Topheavy destroyers and lusty stern posts on battleships might occasionally occur in the best regulated families, but not even the German gestapo has been more secretive about its affairs than the U. S. navy. Acting Secretary Edison, for instance, has no regular press conferences. News men are not permitted to talk with any naval official without going through the publicity section, and the publicity section refuses to make appointments except on routine happenings.

News men assigned as public observers at the navy department became aroused recently, signed a round robin asking Edison to hold press conferences twice a week. Finally, naval publicity announced Edison would hold one every two weeks because he was too busy to hold them oftener. (President Roosevelt welcomes press conferences twice a week. State Secretary Hull holds one every day. Army officers are always open to consultation although neither Secretary Woodring nor Assistant Secretary Johnson hold regular meetings.)

This bi-weekly solution only added amusing confusion to naval recalcitrance. Mr. Edison's first press conference was postponed because he was absent. When it was held a week later a lieutenant commander in the press section requested newsmen to limit the conference to ten minutes because Mr. Edison was busy. The aide to the secretary notified reporters that chairs would not be provided since the conference was to be short. It was—and unproductive.

Net result of all this is the naval department occupies a place apart from other government activities, a secretive cloud from

The Creeping Man

by Frances Sholley Wees

YESTERDAY: Tuck and Bunny go through the woods to the log on which Duncan and Bunny were sitting when they saw the creeping man. A gray shell he kept in lying there—Mrs. Devore's.

DEATH WALKS THE NIGHT

Later on that afternoon, the heat and low-hanging clouds resolved themselves into rain, which fell at first gently, then gathered force and became a veritable deluge. By eleven o'clock at night there were pools of water standing on the roads and paths, and the wind was lashing the tree-tops and branches fiercely.

Two very uncomfortable police officers stood among the trees at the back of the Forresters' garden, their feet turned down to shed the water, their raincoats dripping.

"It's a filthy night," Hall growled.

"If I was this murderin' devil that's abroad," Donovan said under his breath, "I'd choose this night for me. I'd work. Ye can scarcely see yer hand afore yer face."

"That wind makes a hell of a row."

"It does that. Do ye hear the wee dog, Hall? The new pup? He's been whinnin' fer the last half hour. I'm wonderin' if there's anythin' wrong now over at the Deanes. I'm wonderin' why the kid doesn't take him into his sleepin' tent there and keep him quiet."

"The kids' not sleepin' out tonight, surely?"

Donovan laughed under his breath. "He is that. He gets no rain there in the lee of the house. He's a bold lad, that. He buttoned his coat tighter to his throat. I guess he'd better be leavin' again," he said. "It won't do to be away from the front of the house long, ye never can tell." He started off cautiously toward the door, his hand raised as a hedge, then turned and came back.

"Dye think one of us better have a look at the kid, now?" he asked.

"There's been no owl nootin' in the dark tonight, Hall?"

"It's too wet. But go if ye like—I'll slide around to the front of the house, while ye keep your eye peeled here at the back."

They separated, Donovan moving noiselessly along the path toward the Deanes' back gate. Hall went toward Miss Lisey's hedge again. It had been agreed upon that they would not risk their disclosure by crossing the open stretches of the garden, although there was little fear of disclosure on such a night as this.

Hall went in his circle of the hedge, vent in at the Forresters' front gate, and went down the path, softly, went on around to the sun porch, and tried that. Locked. The windows on the ground floor were shut tight, and he peered up at the second floor, where the light came from the kitchen door was locked too, and he encountered nothing, heard nothing to make him suspicious.

The little dog at the Deanes' was whining louder now—he caught the sounds by crossing the light porch, and he strode down the path and into the garden. He lifted the flap of the tent.

Donovan was bending over the pallet in the corner, his arm under the shoulder of the boy who lay there. He looked up as Hall entered. "Get his father quick, Hall, and a doctor," he said bitterly. "It's got the lad now. He's barely livin'."

"Gas!"

Hall did not stop for questions, but obeyed instantly. He rang the Deane door-bell furiously, rattled at the door, and banged on the door with a lighted candle on and through the glass he saw Mr. Deane, his bathrobe caught up hastily, coming hurriedly down the stairs.

"The door opened. 'What—' Mr. Deane began to say.

"Phone your doctor quick," Hall commanded. "Your boy's been hurt."

Mr. Deane scuttled to the telephone without another word. Hall ran back to the little tent, and was immediately followed by Mrs. Deane, her hair in two braids, her nightgown soaked through instantly. Donovan was attempting to force his way through the emergency flask between the boy's teeth, and not succeeding.

"What's happened?" she whispered. "My boy's hurt?"

"We'll have to get him inside," Donovan said gently. "If you'll go ahead and show me his bed, ma'am. He's had a bad blow on his head, but he's still livin' on the Lord be praised."

They got the boy inside, and into bed before the doctor came; it was not until then that either man was able to leave. The whole proceeding had not taken more than fifteen minutes, but Hall fairly ran back to the Forresters' house with Donovan at his heels.

Donovan was cold with rage. "I'd break every bone in his body if I could get him!" he muttered to himself.

"What's the worryin' me," said Hall, "is has anything happened here?"

"No, but I've been wonderin' if I could get him!" he muttered to himself.

"What's the worryin' me," said Hall, "is has anything happened here?"

"No, but I've been wonderin' if I could get him!" he muttered to himself.

gasp. "Come on now, here goes! It's crackin' man."

One panel went in with a smash. Donovan reached in and turned the key. They stepped into the little hall and Hall groped for his flash light.

It was Donovan who reached out and opened the door into the living room, and almost immediately put his arm out to hold the other man back. "For the love of God, don't strike a match," he swore. "It's gas."

"Gas!"

"It poured out through the door in a flood."

"The windows, quick!"

"They ran around the house smashing the glass with their clubs, and came again to the open door. Donovan turned off his hat, and held it before his face. Hall followed suit.

"It's the first turn to the left," Hall said, and they dashed up the stairs.

"Are they dead?"

"At the top, Hall jerked open the bedroom doors while Donovan raced for the door to the sleeping porch, unlocked it, and flung it open. A welcome gust of wind came in and blew through the windows in the west bedroom that Hall opened. Each man gulped at the fresh air, and then turned again to the work in hand.

"Michael and Tuck, from the beds in that west room, were carried down first, carried down and laid on the wet grass in the rain, while the men went back. There's a girl I don't know where she sleeps, and a note, Hall said, and it was the work of but a few moments to find them and carry them out.

"Are they dead?" Donovan demanded.

"I don't know. They're not movin'." The doctor's still here, thank the Lord."

"They were not dead, although another few minutes would have been too much for Tuck. The Deane's were turned into a hospital that night, with Mr. Deane running about in bewilderment and Mrs. Deane hanging distractedly over her son, whose head was now swathed in bandages.

"The doctor recovered first, and Bunny next. Michael was very sick, but he recovered quickly."

He listened to Hall's tale, lying back on his pillow, without a word, until he heard of the attack on Gordon. Then he swung his feet around to the floor, his head in his hands.

"We've got to do something quick," he muttered. "Gordon! It's his turn now. He's in the attack."

"It's too big for us," Donovan said. "You were all near dead for tonight, Mr. Forrester. It's a devil we're up against, that's what it is."

It was not until morning that they discovered how it had been done. In the gray dawn Donovan covered his face again, and went down to the basement, to discover the gas in the furnace turned full on. But he could not stay to investigate then; he turned it off, and went back outside while it cleared out of the house. But the chimney discovered that the pipe leading from the furnace turned full on, and the gas, turned on but not lit, went up the heat pipes, and so all through the house. And they found, also, that the gas control lever, a cord which went up across the furnace, lay along the top of a pipe, and had the end dangling just below one of the basement windows.

Hall examined it closely. "That end was on the other side of the window last night," he said. "See? There's this little corner of glass broken out. He lit it ready in five minutes, and the string through—ah! he had to do was sneak in here for a second and pull it."

"But when did he make all these preparations?" Michael demanded.

Hall shook his head. "How long since you had that furnace lit?"

"We've never had it lit since we came."

"There you are, then. It might have been fixed like this for weeks."

"No, I was down here about a week after we moved in—looking for some beads my wife dropped. It wouldn't take a man more than five minutes."

Michael turned away. "It might have been done that! That Sunday party he said wearily. 'The day Miss Lisey was murdered.'"

He went directly to the telephone and called his father. "He'll issue a warrant for Duncan Murchison's arrest, will you, dad? We didn't. We can't take any more chances."

Board of Review

Four members of the Boy Scout troop committee, with V. P. Conkey as chairman, conducted a board of review at the local Scout meeting Monday evening. Those advanced to second class rank were Billy Lomax, Scout Oblander and Mack Dism.

Several other Scouts are close to this rank, and hope to complete their tests by the next review which will probably be held early in January.

Victor Conkey, Jr., presented five applications for merit badges, making a total of sixteen that he has worked out since becoming a Scout. This places him within five of the coveted goal of Eagle Scout.

Billy Lomax presented two applications for merit badges. Two new members, Ardell Watry and Robert Lewis, have been added, making the total enrollment 12.

Last week the boys were acquainted to Freeport by C. R. Williams and David Taylor, where they engaged the Y. M. C. A. swimming pool. Scouts Ben Bangert, Mack Dism, Lynn Dism and Billy Lomax passed their swimming tests.

At a recent Ogle county meeting Robert Huntley was elected as a member at large to represent the county in the Blackhawk Area Council. The amount received in the recent drive for funds was $96.70.

Moring-Alberts

Miss Florence Alberts, daughter of Mrs. Moring-Alberts, of Forrester, and Mervin Moring, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Moring of Freeport, were united in marriage Tuesday evening, Nov. 21 at 8 o'clock in the Forrester Grove Presbyterian parsonage. The double ring ceremony was read by the pastor, Rev. S. G. Mann.

The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hoffman, brother-in-law and sister of the bride. Following the ceremony, the bride and groom returned to the home of the bride's mother, where a two-course wedding supper was served to members of the immediate families.

The bride wore a gown of blue with a white bolero, accented with a dress of elderberry wine with black accessories.

Mrs. Moring is a graduate of Forrester high school with the class of 1934. Her husband attended the Shannon schools.

The young couple expect to reside on the Alberts farm south-east of Forrester, in the spring.

FANFARE

By DON DANIELSON.

VETERAN HORSEMAN

Frank Pearce of Dixon is still driving winning trotters at the age of 78, having recently handled the reins behind "Red Glow," winning trotter at the Lexington, Ky., meet, according to Jimmy Carroll, St. Louis turf commissioner. Pearce started driving harness horses 64 years ago, back in the good old days when Bud Doble, Ed Geers, John Splan and other veterans of the sulky were handling trotters and pacers. Pearce unquestionably is the oldest veteran connected with the trotting and pacing turf at present.

THAT'S BOWLING

The telegraphic system of the grapevine broke down during the Thanksgiving holiday and so this may come to you a little late—but nevertheless, worth mention. Wayne Stewart did some solo bowling at the Dixon Recreation alleys last Saturday afternoon. He was going along in his quiet way until some of the L. N. U. bowlers who were engaged in a tournament of their own, chanced to notice Wayne's score sheet and then everyone settled down to hold their breath for Wayne's tenth frame. For nine straight frames he rolled strikes for a total score of 279. That's bowling, if anyone should step up and ask you.

BADMINTON BANTER

The Northwest Illinois Badminton League has arranged for the second round of play. The first round was won by Sterling. On Dec. 15 Rockford is to play at Sterling and Freeport at Dixon. On Jan. 10 Sterling plays at Freeport and Rockford at Dixon. Freeport goes to Rockford on Jan. 17 and Sterling comes to Dixon.

SERIOUSLY ILL

Dr. James A. Naismith, 78, the inventor of basketball who is known in these parts for his speech last spring at the Mt. Morris basketball banquet, was "very low" today and physicians at Lawrence, Kan., feared he could not recover from his second critical illness within a week. Dr. Naismith suffered a heart attack yesterday. Last week he had a cerebral hemorrhage but rallied surprisingly.

MENDOTA LETTERMEN

Seventeen members of the Mendota 1939 varsity football team are eligible to receive letters at the annual football banquet to be held Dec. 5. Twenty-three are eligible for letters on Coach Wesley Heinz's reserve squad. Varsity monograms will go to: Allen Carr, Merle Knox, Kenneth Kreiser, Douglas Mathieson, Gordon Michaels, Paul Schmitz, and Donald Whitmore, all seniors; Donald Cromwell, Glen Harjes, Robert Krenz, Robert Larkin and Frank Seno, and Wayne Spenader, juniors; Clarence Fitzgerald, Charles Gesslein, William McKeown and Elwood Peterson, sophomores.

BASKETBALL RESULTS

Over in the eastern part of the county in Thanksgiving eve cage games Lee defeated Kishwaukee, 49 to 18, and Paw Paw bowed to Waterman on the latter club's court, 54 to 18. Paw Paw had previously defeated Lee Center, 37 to 27, and next Wednesday night will be host to Plano, Lee, which had been trimmed by Franklin Grove in the first game of the season will play a return game with the Mitchell-men on Tuesday at Franklin Grove.

NICKNAME CONTEST

The long-delayed nickname contest to select a "tag" for the Dixon high school teams is about ready to pop. The suggestions have been submitted to the judges and the final decision rests in their hands. We may know any day now.

A WEEK FROM LAST NIGHT

In less than a week now the Dixon basketball fans may know something of what to expect from the high school quintet this season. Next Friday night the local cagers will step out into the gymnasium to clash with the boys of yesterday when they meet in the traditional game with the alumni. The grads are again being piloted this season by Coach Charles Roundy and he reports that the boys will practice again Monday night at 7 o'clock at the school.

Land of the Tall Corn Undergoes Great Changes in One Short Year

Evanston, Ill., Nov. 25.—(AP)—Iowa's "heroic hand" of football players moved against Northwestern today seeking a half interest in the Big Ten football title.

The amazing Hawkeyes can tie Ohio State for the championship by defeating the Wildcats while the Bucks lose to Michigan, the only conqueror of Iowa.

Northwestern has nothing at stake except the increased prestige which would accompany a victory over Iowa's Nile Kinnick & Company. The Wildcats have won only three of seven games.

A crowd of 40,000 was expected.

AND NOW LOOK!

Des Moines, Iowa, Nov. 25.—(AP)—How times have changed in the tall corn state.

A year ago they were calling the University of Iowa football players anything but ironmen. A disappointing season had been finished. Fans hopefully but not too confidently awaited an announcement from the Iowa athletic board concerning a new coach.

No matter who was named, the fans said, it would be at least a three-year task to revive the fal-

HARVARD AND YALE STAGE 58TH RENEWAL OF RIVALRY

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 25.—(AP)—The Harvard and Yale football teams today.

Despite the fact the Crimson and the Elis rank among the "Ivy League's" weakest football members this year, a near-capacity throng of 55,000 was expected to jam into Harvard stadium for the 58th renewal of gridiron rivalry between these ancient rivals.

Harvard, winner of four and loser of three this season, seemed to have an edge, but since this mix was the objective clash for both teams, the odds and records mean nothing. Harvard has won the last two from the Elis, largely through the efforts of swift-running Torby MacDonald, now the Crimson captain.

Yale, however, still holds a wide margin of superiority, having won 32 since the rivalry started back in 1875, compared to 19 for the Harvards. Six of the games were ties.

WISCONSIN AND MINNESOTA TO MATCH GROUND ATTACKS

Minneapolis, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Two of the Big Ten's most powerful ground attacks paradoxically possessed by two of its weakest teams will grind out yardage when Minnesota and Wisconsin meet here today.

It will be the 49th time the schools have met with Wisconsin seeking its first victory over the Gophers in Minneapolis since 1922. Both teams were at top strength for the season's finale.

LONGEST WINNING STREAK IS ENDED; HAD WON 43 STRAIGHT

Humble, Texas, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Eleven Humble iron men, playing without a single substitution, snapped the longest winning streak in Texas schoolboy football history by upsetting Hull-Daisetta, 13-0, last night.

Hull-Daisetta had won 43 straight, starting in 1935.

SOUTHERN CAL. TO MATCH IRISH MAN FOR MAN IN GAME

Annual Battle Is Today's Outstanding Event in Football Scene

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 25.—(AP)—Southern California's undefeated legions put their record on the line today against a once-beaten Notre Dame eleven in the outstanding intersectional grid battle of the day.

The fighting Irish, one-point victim of Iowa two weeks ago, sought revenge for their loss to the Trojans a year ago after moving down eight opponents in a row.

A cold, wet afternoon was forecast for the game, with either rain or snow in prospect.

The brilliant series between these two football giants stands now at seven victories for the Irish, five for Southern California and one tie. Both teams were reported in near top physical condition. Although still bothered with a lame shoulder, Bob Saggau, Irish halfback, was expected to play and Jack Banta, injured Trojan fullback, was due to see limited action at last.

FINAL IRISH GAME

By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr.
New York, Nov. 25.—(AP)—It has been reported the best three teams on the Pacific Coast this season are Southern California's first, second and third strings.

Notre Dame undoubtedly has one of the best teams in the midwest, if not the best of all.

That was the reason why their annual battle, rapidly becoming one of the many football traditions, was the outstanding event on today's national football schedule.

Various sectional and conference championships were up for decision in games of even greater local importance, but there was nothing which mattered quite as much to football fans everywhere.

Neither team has a perfect record. The Trojans were tied by Oregon in their opener this season, and Notre Dame lost by a single point to Iowa two weeks ago. It was the final game of the season for the Irish, but U. S. C. has more to play, and probably will appear in the Rose Bowl Jan. 1.

Bid For Rose Bowl

Bidding for the other place in the Rose Bowl, or for invitations to other bowl games, were Tulane, Duke, Missouri and perhaps a few others who were listed to play today. Two of the most prominent entries in the national championship race—unbeaten and untied Tennessee and Texas A. and M.—weren't scheduled to play until Thursday.

Tulane, seeking at least a tie for the Southeastern conference title, met the weak Sewanee team today and was expected to catch up with Tennessee in the Georgia Tech, also unbeaten in that circuit, had a slightly harder assignment against Florida.

Since its triumph over North Carolina, Duke is conceded to be the Southern Conference's best team and should dispose of North Carolina state in today's winnow. However, the Blue Devils can't claim a clear title, if Clemson gets safely past Furman.

Missouri, axed looking for a bowl bid, met Kansas in a game which should clinch the Tigers' claim to the Big Six crown. They can't get worse than a tie, for they have beaten Oklahoma and Nebraska, which met in a second-place battle.

Bucks Vs. Michigan

The Ohio State-Michigan classic would up the Big Ten race with the Buckeyes out to gain their first conference championship since 1920 at the expense of pre-season favorites. Once-beaten Iowa was the only team that can tie Ohio State, and Northwestern may prove a lofty hurdle for the Hawkeyes to clear. Indiana-Purdue, Illinois-Chicago and Wisconsin-Minnesota were other conference winnow games.

The east doesn't have any official championship, and Cornell rated the best team in the section, likely wouldn't accept a "bowl" bid of any kind. Nevertheless, there was plenty of action with Cornell's big red team trying to finish a perfect season in its traditional struggle with Pennsylvania, Yale and Harvard coming together in the 58th game of their ancient series and Duquesne, only other major undefeated and untied team in the east, facing Carnegie Tech.

Important east-west intersectional games were Kansas State-Boston College and Temple-Michigan State.

Baylor's effort to conquer Southern Methodist and thus remain in the conference title race, if Texas A. and M. should slip, was the main event on the Southwestern program. There was a similar situation on the Pacific Coast with unbeaten U. C. L. A. facing once-beaten Oregon State.

MAJOR LEAGUE

Big things happened at the Dixon Recreation bowling alleys last night when Hansons' Stars dropped three games to Blatz and the Crystal Barbers gave the Chauffeurs too close a shave and won three games. The brush and mug boys moved to first place in the Major League while Hansons' constellations dropped to the second notch.

In the Blatz three-point landing the team was paced by Krug with a 553 series. Dwyre rolled 596 for the losers.

Worley rolled a sizzling 607 to pace the Crystal Barbers in their victory over the drivers. The losers were led by Allen with 525.

Coca Cola took two games from Medusa with the soft drink lads paced by Poole with a red hot 625 series. Thompson rolled 519 for the losers' highest series.

Plum Hollow won two games from Dixon Paint with Randall's 553 leading the charge of the winners. Of the active legions on the brushmen's Kappier rolled 477.

High games last night included: Randall 208; Poole 212, 211, 202; Smith 201; Thompson 202; Detweiler 205; Wolfe 200; Worley 234; Hanson 201; Dwyre 214, 223, Hill 235.

Chicago Bears to Fete 20th Anniversary of Founding

The Bears, who meet the Cardinals in the final game of the regular National pro football league schedule at Wrigley Field tomorrow afternoon, will celebrate the 20th anniversary of the founding of the club with the second annual homecoming party in the evening.

Old and young former players from far and near have been invited to attend the game and to participate in the festivities at the Chicago Athletic Association, and Coach George Halas expects representatives of every class.

Against the teams now in the league the Bears have won 100, lost 45, tied 17, and rolled up 2,170 points to 1,318.

EXPECT ONLY 5,000 TO SEE ILLINOIS TOY WITH MAROONS

Chicago, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Illinois and Chicago brought their Big Ten football season to a close today with their annual meeting on Stagg field.

The Illini, victor over Michigan and Wisconsin, was a heavy favorite to win over the Maroons, conquerors of Wabash and Oberlin. About 5,000 spectators were expected to see the game.

Herbert Jones Supervises Release of Tickets for Game at South Bend, Ind.

EDITOR'S NOTE

All seats in the 56,000-capacity stadium at South Bend, Ind. have been gone more than a week and Notre Dame athletic officials said they have turned away at least 20,000 others seeking pasteboards for today's game between the Irish and the Trojans of Southern California.

Supervising the distribution of these ducats, as he has for all Notre Dame home games for the past 12 years, is Herbert Jones, former Dixon man. Mr. Jones is the son of Mrs. Celia A. Jones and brother of Mrs. William Loftus, Mrs. L. J. Welch, and Willard, Edward and Gerald Jones.

The reprinted interview appeared in Wednesday evening's edition of the South Bend Tribune and was written by Bob Overaker.

He has had thousands of tickets on the 50-yard line for Notre Dame football games. Yet he has never used one himself!

He has had supervision in the distribution of 3,600,000 Irish football pasteboards. Yet he has never used one himself!

He stands about 25 yards from the playing field in the Notre Dame stadium on each home game. Yet he has never seen an entire Irish home game!

He has cheered the hearts of thousands of fans with choice seats. He has also disappointed thousands by being unable to provide tickets of any kind.

12 Years in Saddle

There are only a few of the things that may be written about Herbert E. Jones, assistant business manager of athletics at Notre Dame. When Mr. Jones finishes his task next Saturday (today) at the conclusion of the Notre Dame-Southern California game, he can look back on 12 years of filling ticket requests to the very best of his ability.

If you edged behind the scenes in the Notre Dame athletic offices, now housed in Breen-Phillips hall just north of the field

LOUISIANA NORMAL DEMONS WANT TO KNOW HOW TO GET AN INVITATION TO BOWL TILT

Natchitoches, La., Nov. 25.—(AP)—The Louisiana Normal Demons are wondering how many championships a team has to win before it can be invited to a bowl.

The Demons already have clinched the hunting in the Louisiana Intercollegiate conference, and a victory next week over Southwestern Louisiana Institute—which based on records seems in the bag—would give them a perfect season of 11 victories and top claim to championship of the large Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

Last week they thought they had a bowl game. The "Brain Bowl" for teachers colleges, tentatively scheduled between the Slippery Rock, Pa., and Maryville, Mo., Teachers, didn't pan out.

The news got around that Slippery Rock still wanted to play some unbeaten teachers school in a bowl game, and Normal officials let it be known they would be "receptive" to an invitation.

But the invitation, if it were mailed, hasn't arrived.

Normal officials acknowledged today they still might consider a bowl bid, which was another way of saying they'll play anybody, anywhere.

They want to show off their team that has gained 300 yards per game, scored 189 points to 18 and licked the best clubs in its class room from Texas to Kentucky.

EXPECT YEAR'S LARGEST BIG TEN THROG AT ANN ARBOR

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 25.—(AP)—Ohio State bid for its first undisputed Western Conference football championship since 1920 against Michigan's disappointing Wolverines today. A crowd of 85,000, largest of the year in the Big Ten, was expected to be on hand.

By winning or gaining a tie in the 36th renewal of the football series between the schools, Ohio State can clinch the championship alone. In the event Michigan wins, Iowa will have to beat Northwestern today to tie for the crown.

Both teams entered the game with casualties. Ed Frutig, Michigan end, and Fullback Jim Langhurst of Ohio State, not being scheduled to put on uniforms.

During 1938, 1,957,350 new passenger cars were sold in the United States.

house, you would, no doubt, quickly learn that the life of Mr. Jones and his aids is far from the life of Riley.

It was in the fall of 1927 that Mr. Jones, who had in June of that year received his sheepskin from Notre Dame, returned to his alma mater in the capacity he now serves. That was three years prior to the opening of the imposing buff brick stadium in which Irish home games are now played. Cartier field was the scene of contests then, and Albert Ryan was business manager of athletics.

Besides Messrs. Ryan and Jones there were four persons employed by the university to help the handling of tickets. But as the schedules rolled into history, and collegiate football gained in popularity, huge stadiums stretched into the skies on campuses throughout the land.

Notre Dame was in the foreground of this upward surge. And with this march the tasks of the business offices increased accordingly. Today there are 20 clerks working in the ticket office.

Yet, the great increase in duties, crowds and requests did not become cumbersome, Mr. Jones said. Today, just as 12 years ago, the football fans are of the same tenor. Their requests are about the same, and they have varied very little in reasonable and unreasonable requests.

During our talk with Mr. Jones we gained first hand knowledge of some of the requests that float into his office daily from the beginning to the end of each football season.

Since the opening of the stadium in 1930 Mr. Jones estimates he has aided in distribution of 3,600,000 tickets to home games. Asked to describe just how these tickets are handled for each season, he replied, "First of all notices are mailed to each alumnus of Notre Dame and those who purchased tickets the preceding season. These notices contain data on the home schedule; price of tickets for each game; price of season tickets; and the date when mail orders will be accepted."

Forreston Bows to Shannon Five Last Night, 27-17

Gattemy, Shannon forward, scored six field goals and two free throws for a total of 14 points as he and his mates invaded Forreston last night and drubbed the hosts, 27 to 17. It was Forreston's third defeat of the season in as many starts. Next Wednesday the team will be host to Leaf River in a return game.

Buttel with eight points from four field goals was high scorer for the losers. Shannon's reserves defeated the Forreston reserves, 23 to 18, and in a preliminary game the Forreston town team trimmed a Shannon town team, 41 to 29.

stream and gradually the troops assembled in that area, when they were fired upon from machine gun posts, and the main battle ensued. Officers rapidly deployed their companies, spreading fanwise and then quickly storming a long slope to dislodge the enemy and the battle was over for the morning. After dinner and a rest period, the troops started off on another military maneuver which kept them in the Lost Nation wooded section for about three hours this afternoon.

Checked by Army Officer
A fleet of army trucks transported the soldiers to and from the battle scene, leaving the Army this morning about 7:30 and to be returned about 5 o'clock. The maneuvers are carefully viewed and checked by a regular United States Army officer, with battalion officers and company commanders. The maneuvers are scored to determine the efficiency of the companies under fire.

TRAFFIC ACCIDENT
A car driven by Robert Kelly of Chicago, who with three companions was enroute west on a rabbit hunting trip, was badly damaged this morning about 7 o'clock on Seventh street and Peoria avenue. Kelly was driving west on Seventh street, according to police report, and neglected to stop or reduce speed at Peoria avenue. Christ Johnson, Dixon contractor, was driving south and struck the Chicago car amidship. None of the occupants was injured but both cars were slightly damaged.

IN POLICE COURT
Robert Heckman, who launched a drive to lessen the feline population in the west end of the city, neglected to keep his marksmanship practice outside the city limits yesterday afternoon and when woman in the neighborhood complained to the police, his arrest followed. Heckman was armed with a high powered rifle of an ancient model and design when police apprehended him and he hailed him before Police Magistrate James E. Bales, who assessed a fine of $3 and costs on a charge of discharging firearms within the city limits.

visions. Test of the effectiveness of the strike was expected to come when, and if, the unions call upon the movie projectionists to walk out. There are 20,000 film theatres in the United States which would be forced to shut down if the projectionists, members of the international alliance of theatrical stage employees, went on strike. Bioff surrendered voluntarily meanwhile on a telegraphic warrant for his arrest on a 17-year-old Chicago conviction for pandering. He provided $1,000 bail and was granted a writ of habeas corpus returnable December 12.

Brethren Church Notes

A Church of the Brethren revival is in progress and drawing good crowds. Rev. F. Burton of Lena is an evangelist who believes in his Bible and preaches the word with power. Tuesday evening a delegation of the Dixon church of the Brethren came in a group of about 15 persons and special music appreciated by all.

Mrs. Evan Kinsley is the director of music and leads an old time song service, each evening. The song service begins at 7:30. The meetings will close Sunday evening.

The annual Thanksgiving supper will be held in the church basement on Wednesday evening. The supper will be enjoyed and an offering will be lifted for home missions.

Union Thanksgiving services will be held at the church next Thursday at 10:30 a. m. Rev. Louis Grafton of the Presbyterian church will give the address. Rev. Ralph M. Dreger will conduct devotions and Rev. S. L. Cover of the Church of the Brethren will act as host.

The choir will meet Wednesday evening after the supper. Ladies' Aid Wednesday at the church.

Methodist Church Notes

The Wesley Foundation debt liquidation campaign being conducted throughout Illinois has been meeting with great success over the whole state. A few of the churches in the Joliet-Dixon district have already "gone over the top."

In the Franklin Grove Methodist church warm response was made to the challenge to help save the Methodist Christian work on the campus of the University of Illinois, the work known as "the Wesley Foundation," together with gifts from the Ladies Aid and Miss Dorothy Durkes' class, the amount nearly totaled the quota of one hundred dollars.

Other families who were not able to be present at roll call this past Sunday wish to contribute to their part in this necessary work. The aim is to have every family in the church do some part, so that one family will bear the greater share of the burden.

In the unified service Nov. 26, Dorothy Karper will offer the recitation. The sermon will be on the topic "Rejoice, and Again I Say, Rejoice." The scripture will be read, "Jesus" ministering to those in need will be discussed in the lesson. The unified service is a complete program of worship and study for all members of the community, conducted with the Methodist church, beginning at 9:45 and closing at 11:15.

Epworth leaguers of the Franklin Grove Methodist church will be hosts to the leaguers of the Rock River Valley group at the Kersten gymnasium from 4:00 to 8:00 p. m. A period of recreation will be followed by supper and group singing of favorite songs.

Immediately following a short business session the evening devotional service will take place. Dr. James J. Kingham, formerly of India, will be the speaker for the young people. The public is invited to attend the evening service, which begins at 7:00 o'clock.

Committees for the Epworth League rally of the Rock River Valley group to be held at the Kersten gymnasium this coming Sunday from 4:00 to 8:00 p. m., are as follows: Entertainment—Eugene Giron and Donald Shaull; refreshments—Joan Wasson, Mary Knowles, Betty Bettendorf, Doris Howard, Frances Kelley, Julia Moulton, Eva Rhodes and several of the mothers; publicity—Courtney Schafer; devotions—Ted Phillips; reception—Harriet Howie, Kenneth Sandrock, Glenn Butler; ushers—Rodney Roop, Robert Wil-

Volley Ball

The Franklin Grove Volley Ball league got under way Monday night with about 30 members present to officially open the season. A business meeting was held prior to the practice session. By a majority vote Leslie Henry was elected president and Kenneth Hood, secretary-treasurer. The league chose Roy Shoemaker, Ernest Fair, Roy Wendell, Carl Sunday, Leslie Henry, Arthur Shaffer, Evans Kinsley and Howard Byers as captains to head the teams. On Nov. 27 the teams will be organized after which competition will begin. It is urged that all who are interested in joining the league from this locality and who were not present at the last meeting, be on deck Monday night. If it is impossible for you to be there, drop a postcard to the secretary-treasurer so that your name will be listed and placed on one of the teams for the coming season.

Food Sale and Bazaar

Circle No. 3 of the Methodist Aid society will have their annual food sale and bazaar in the Utz building December 9. Members of the Circle who have articles for sale and poultry show which was being held at the same time, Ivan Hullah and Gerald Schier exhibited their corn which they won the following premiums on: 3 C group placings and 1 D group.

Wins State Honors

Word has been received by Mr. Baker, the agriculture instructor, that Robert Wilson has been selected as one of the state dairy champions for the state in 4-H work. Therefore, he is entitled to attend the Illinois Agriculture association banquet which will be held on Thursday evening, Dec. 7, in the Crystal room of the Great Northern hotel. This makes the third boy in the Franklin Grove 4-H club to either win state or county honors.

Grade News - Third Room

Members of the eighth grade English class have turned literary this week. If you have noticed that far away gleam in their eyes or the pencils behind their ears, it's merely because they're taking their authorship so seriously. Many fine stories have been turned in and the relay stories in class have been hair-raisers.

School Notes

The primary room children are watching the changing weather with much interest. A thermometer hung outside the window tells them that the days are getting colder.

The second and third grades have organized book clubs and are meeting every Friday afternoon to read the stories they have chosen to the club. Every three weeks we elect a new president and helper for the club. Each time a child reads a story for the book club he pastes a tiny paper book with the name of his story in it beside his name on our book club chart.

Home Economics

The freshman home economics class is studying a unit on breakfasts. Each girl has planned a cereal and accompaniment which they prepare. Also they have planned a hot bread and an accompaniment of a beverage and a fruit. The following are the samples of the menus planned by the girls:

Monday - Grapejuice cocktail, duchess potatoes, pea au gratin, pecan rolls, butterscotch pie, coffee.

Tuesday - Fruit cocktail, potato vol-au-vent loaf, health salad, cloverleaf rolls, pineapple upside-down cake served with whipped cream, coffee.

Wednesday - Fruit cocktail, chili con carne, golden glow salad, cloverleaf rolls, banana cream pie, coffee.

grades are centering their attention on studies of cylinders and cubes. Children in the second room are illustrating stories.

Physics Class Trip

The physics class pupils and their instructor, Mr. Fox, made the first of their annual field trips Tuesday when they spent the day at Pekin and Peoria. The morning was spent at Peoria, where the "Super Power Company" 70-million-dollar steam generating plant is located. The class was conducted from basement to roof in this huge plant, seeing all the details of boiler operation, turbines, generators and electric control. At present the plant is adding its fourth unit, a 150,000 horse power boiler and turbine, making the plant the largest of its kind in the world.

The afternoon was spent at the Caterpillar tractor plant in Peoria. The group spent over two hours watching the many interesting operations in this huge plant which covers 40 square blocks. At present over 10,000 men are working in three shifts at the plant. The most interesting part of the trip was the tour around the assembly line for the Diesel tractors, each operation being planned perfectly and timed to perfection. The class was sincerely grateful for the hospitality shown them at both of these plants.

Public Speaking Contest

Section IV held its meeting at Sterling November 18 and it was decided to hold the public speaking contest for vocational boys on March 29 at Franklin Grove. This gives the agriculture boys another task to do in connection with their agricultural work. The winner of this contest then goes to the district meet, then to the state and after this the state winner enters the national contest which is held in Kansas City in connection with the Kansas City Royal exposition in the fall.

The Franklin Grove chapter sent Robert Meyers and Robert Wilson as delegates to this meeting. They also attended the corn and poultry show which was being held at the same time. Ivan Hullah and Gerald Schier exhibited their corn which they won the following premiums on: 3 C group placings and 1 D group.

Practice on Operetta

The girls' and boys' glee clubs have started work on their operetta, "Betty Lou," which will be presented early in February. Everyone is very enthusiastic over this production because the setting is colorful, the dialogue is witty, and the tunes are "catchy." There will be a cast of about ten characters, a singing chorus, of approximately thirty voices and a dancing chorus of eight girls.

P. T. A. Meeting

The attendance at the P. T. A. meeting held in the Kersten gymnasium Tuesday evening was especially good. The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Ada Peterson. The program committee had provided an especially good evening's entertainment. County Superintendent of Schools John Torrens, gave a splendid address on "Know Your School." His talk was full of very helpful suggestions to the teachers.

The Dufex dance studio of Rockford entertained with tap dances, songs and recitation which was especially enjoyed.

Club Entertained

Mrs. Grace Stultz entertained the members of the Kilo club at her home Tuesday afternoon. The entire membership was present. The call, "Thanksgiving," was especially interesting. Mrs. Gross read the third part of the book "Listen, the Wind." After the program lovely refreshments were enjoyed during the social hour.

Program for Leaguers

The Rock River Valley leaguers of the Methodist church will meet here Sunday afternoon and evening in the Kersten gymnasium. The program will begin at 4:00 o'clock with a period of recreation, followed by supper and a time for group singing. The program for the evening worship period, which will begin at 8 o'clock, is as follows:

Prayer, led by league member. Words of thanksgiving—Doris Howard. Poem, "Thanksgiving"—Ted Phillips.

Offering. Hymn No. 85, three verses. Address of the evening—Dr. James J. Kingham. Closing hymn, No. 278. League benediction. Devotional leader—Ted Phillips. Pianist—Miss Blanche Lyford.

Recently designed especially for stunt flying was an ordinary light plane with specially built landing wheels and cockpit built on its back, thus enabling the pilot to take off, fly, and land while the plane is upside down.
